Riley awards grant to reduce criminal activity in Wiregrass area

Gov. Bob Riley has awarded a $107,000 grant to continue the battle against drugs, violent crimes and child predators in southeast Alabama.

Based in Ozark and implemented by the Dale County Sheriff's Office, The Southeast Alabama Violent Crime/Narcotics Criminal Intelligence Program collects information on criminal activity and keeps a database of this information. The collected information is distributed to various law enforcement agencies around southeastern Alabama.

"Accurate, up-to-date information is critical for law enforcement," said Riley. "I applaud the program's staff for providing that information and helping keep our communities safe."

As shown above, the U.S. Highway 84 bypass around New Brockton will take traffic around the town. For motorists traveling eastbound, the bypass appears ready; however, there is still a bit of work to be done to the bypass on the other side of town before it will tie in to the current road.

Coffee County Jail officials also report a cell-to-cell "shakedown" of the facility was conducted Friday, Dec. 28.

Whitworth indicated the "shakedown" was conducted to stop inmates that were attempting to move contraband from cell block to cell block. He said the "shakedown" was successful resulting in many items of contraband being confiscated.

Also during Monday evening's meeting, town officials encouraged citizens that want to volunteer to contact town clerk Annette Williams. One committee citizens are encouraged to volunteer for is

by Fern Cox, Publisher

Estimates of over 200 people turned out last Thursday evening, Jan. 10, to witness Democrat State Senator Jimmy Holley announce his official conversion to the Alabama Republican Party.

Holley was introduced by Alabama Attorney General Troy King who welcomed Holley's

"birth" into the Republican Party. Others giving official welcomes at the event included Governor Bob Riley, state party chairman Mike Hubbard, and Representative Jabo Waggoner.

A host of fellow lawmakers and other state officials (all Republican) were on hand Thursday night in Enterprise as Alabama Senator Jimmy Holley officially announced his change to the Republican Party. Holley is one of the longest serving lawmakers currently serving in the legislature, having served in five terms in the State House and the now serving his third term in the Senate.

Statewide program "Scale Back Alabama" underway

More than 80 local people weigh-in for event

by Linda Hodge, Editor

More than 80 local citizens joined thousands across the state last week in deciding to make a lifestyle change to become healthier and lose weight.

This year's edition of "Scale Back Alabama" officially began last week as weigh-in days were held in counties throughout the state for those interested in making the change. In Elba, 83 people weighed-in Friday, Jan. 11, at Elba General Hospital, the participating agency for Coffee County.

Scale Back Alabama is a 10-week weight loss program designed to get people thinking about becoming healthier. According to Mary Gray, coordinator of the event for Elba General Hospital, the weigh-in event was a "huge success" with 20 teams of four people and three individuals stepping on the scales.

Scale Back Alabama, a joint effort between Alabama hospitals and the Alabama Department of Public Health, is about making healthier choices. It also promotes having fun while trying to lose weight.

The contest portion of the event allows participants to compete in teams of four against teams across the state. Team members have an official weigh-in (hold last week) and an official weigh-out in March.

All teams that lose at least 10 pounds per person will be put in the drawing for a grand prize of $1,000 per team member. In addition, individuals who complete the 10-week contest and lose 10 pounds or more will be put in a drawing for 20 individual prizes of $250 each, even if the other team members do not reach the 10-pound goal.

TWO VEHICLES DAMAGED IN MINOR ACCIDENT...This 2001 Toyota Celica (shown above) received damage to the passenger side last Thursday afternoon, Jan. 10, during an accident in downtown Elba. According to police, Cassy Cooper of Kinston was traveling on Buford Street in the Toyota when a 1996 Chevrolet Cavalier driven by Donna Paige Hudson Pridgen of Elba struck the vehicle. The accident occurred at approximately 2:37 p.m. last Thursday afternoon at the intersection of Buford and Factory streets. Reportedly, parked vehicles obstructed Pridgen's view, and she did not see Cooper before entering the intersection thus causing the collision. The Elba Police Department investigated the accident, and a patrolman was on scene immediately as Officer Robert LaVoie witnessed the collision. He was traveling behind Cooper on Buford Street in his patrol car when the two vehicles collided.

Governor Bob Riley, right, was on hand last Thursday night to welcome Senator Jimmy Holley and his wife Mary into the ranks of the Alabama Republican Party.

Improvement efforts continue at Elba's airport

by Linda Hodge, Editor

With several projects underway, and others set to begin, the City of Elba seems geared to look great in 2008.

One project Elba Mayor James Grimes said he is very excited about is the continued improvements at the Carl Folsom Airport in Elba. He said this particular project has been going on for about four years and additional improvement steps are hoped for in 2008 and beyond.

Grimes said the initial process for this project included obtaining flight pattern rights-of-way which involved acquiring the property where the former Beaver Dam Mobile Home Park was located. While this has been a long process, the mayor said this portion of the project now is pretty well accomplished with only a couple of mobile homes remaining on the property, and by the end of the month, he said hopefully the property will be cleared.

Once the mobile home property is cleared, Grimes said all the utilities including poles and wires will be removed and the area will be graded.

A major step in the airport improvement project was completed in 2007 as the existing runway was reconstructed and resurfaced thanks to grant funds.

Also, Grimes said some erosion problems were corrected.

Mayor Grimes said there had not been any work done to the "old" runway in quite some time, and it was in really bad shape prior to last year's reconstruction work. He said it now looks very nice.

The final portion of the 2007 grant received for the improvement project includes new lighting, and the mayor said this installation should start some time this week.

During the time the runway reconstruction work was being done, the airport was closed. Since completion of that work the airport reopened. However, Grimes said the lighting installation work will require the airport to be closed again for approximately 2-3 weeks once that work actually begins.

"We want to continue to upgrade the airport to make it more efficient and secure," said Grimes.

The city has requested an additional grant for 2008 in the amount of $267,000. Grimes said if the grant is approved these funds will be used for the reconstruction of the airport's parking apron and taxiways. Also, in the next year or so, he

Riley awards grant for worker training

at Kelley Foods of Alabama Inc. in Elba

Gov. Bob Riley has awarded a $20,850 grant to help workers at a Coffee County plant learn new skills to meet increasing demands in their industry.

Kelley Foods of Alabama Inc. in Elba will use the grant to provide training for at least 65 employees. Sessions will be conducted on building customer relationships, providing excellent customer service, improving communication, following safety guidelines and computer training. Workers taking part in training will help the company improve its productivity and increase their earning potential through the new skills.

"Kelley Foods is one of many businesses in Alabama being assisted by the Incumbent Worker Training Program," said Riley. "I am pleased that this program is able to help create jobs and a more efficient work force in Alabama."

Kelley Foods is a multi-million dollar food-processing plant that produces cured and fresh meats and sells 26 categories of food and food-related items. The company, which employs 170, serves south Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and the Florida panhandle.

The year-long training, which began Oct. 1, is being taught by The Gulas Group of Madison, Unipro of Atlanta, Business Training Works of Port Tobacco, Md., and 360 Training of Austin, Texas.

Company human resources manager Erik Ennis was notified of the grant's approval by Riley. The company has committed $23,347 for its share of the training cost.

Funding for the grant was made available to the state through the U.S. Department of Labor.

EDITORIAL

BRAINSTORMS
with Ferrin Cox

After all these years our mouth continues to cause us trouble. Last week we commented about Hillary's crying on TV and wrote in part, "... in a continuing effort to 'humanize' her after her experts decided she was coming across as too cold, harsh ... or (pardon our French) bitchy." At least one woman was upset that we were calling Mrs. Clinton a "B...". Madam, Mother would rollover in her grave if she thought her eldest had called any woman such a name! Our upbringing is such that we don't like to even use what word to describe a female dog. Life has also taught us that certain words and/or opinions will trigger outrage, even from folks who use them in conversations daily. That was why you read the ("pardon our French") effort to dampen the impact even though the whole thing acknowledged a woman is often criticized for acting in a way which would garner praise for a man. The description is used over and over by management trainers in warning women of what they face in leadership roles in the business world. Hillary won. Then the national "experts" on the tube and those writing editorials in the daily newspapers did a turn around. They reached the same conclusion and jumped on the bandwagon giving credit to the "planned" crying spell for the turn around in her vote totals in that state. Upsetting a loyal reader dampens our smugness even and smell the roses or he will be spending a long time in prison, in spite of the efforts of all his high priced lawyers.

Recently questions of "What has happened to O.J.?" were answered this week. O.J. Simpson is back behind bars. With his armed robbery trial set for April, Simpson was arrested in Florida last Friday, returned to Las Vegas and jailed on a parole violation, accused of violating his $125,000 bail in a Las Vegas robbery and kidnapping case. Law enforcement folks say he violated a judge's order and tried to contact one of his co-defendants. O.J. had better wake up and smell the roses or he will be spending a long time in prison, in spite of the efforts of all his high priced lawyers.

Senator Jimmy Holley is now officially a Republican. While he has often been voting with the Republican minority in the State Senate in recent sessions, the change is now official. A number of Democrat officials have had some rather harsh words concerning the move, while Republicans have praised the action. That is Republicans from the branch heads of South Alabama to the President of the United States sending him a letter of welcome to the party. Also sending such a letter was U.S. Representative Terry Everett. Everett has announced his pending retirement at the end of the current term and Holley has been rumored as a contender to replace him. However he has been saying privately (and said publicly last week) that he would not be planning a move to Washington D.C. Jimmy will face strong opposition seeking reelection, according to Alabama Democratic officials. They sent out e-mails last week promising to recruit and support a strong Democratic candidate for the position during the next election cycle ... and expected to win the seat back for the Democrats.

THE WEB JOURNEY

Fighting for Bread and Roses

Lawrence, Massachusetts sprang up on the banks of the Merrimack River during the 1840's. The town surrounded textile factories built beside a newly constructed dam that provided them with inexpensive power to drive their machinery. The developers planned a town of 30,000 people filled with workers who fulfilled their vision of New England society. In 1846, Charles Storow, whose company built the dam, wrote, "I have never felt so strongly as I do now ... How much the comfort, welfare and happiness of a community depends upon its moral condition ... our place is cursed if we do not grow up a sober, temperate, industrious and order-loving people."

By 1912, Lawrence had grown to 85,000 residents. Most were newly arrived immigrants, recruited from eastern and southern Europe by the mill owners. For the most part they were unskilled and lived in some of the worst conditions in the country. Their pay averaged $8.76 per week, so the only affordable housing available was in filthy and decrepit tenements owned by the mills.

With rents ranging from $1.20 to $6.00 per week, workers often sent their children to work in the mills as soon as they could pass for fourteen (the earliest age at which children could legally work). According to a report by Dr. Elizabeth Shapleigh, a Lawrence physician:

"A considerable number of the boys and girls die within the first two or three years after beginning work ... thirty-six out of every 100 of all the men and women who work in the mill die before or by the time they are twenty-five years of age."

When the State of Massachusetts reduced the work week from fifty-six to fifty-four hours a week in January 1912, workers' incomes were further reduced, as mill owners paid them for two hours less work each week. To the workers, it meant three fewer loaves of bread in the weekly family grocery basket. It was the final straw.

The first paychecks of 1912 were distributed on January 12. At the Washington Mill, cries of "short pay, short pay" could be heard throughout the mill. Looms stopped. Sweepers stopped sweeping. The work force, most of whom were first generation Italian immigrants, exploded. The owners had gone too far.

Storming out of the mill, hundreds of workers faced through other workers and convinced them to strike. By the end of the day, 10,000 had walked out. Within a few days, there were 23,000. They were angry, and fighting to feed their families. However, with no plan, and no leader they decided to ask the International Workers of the World, a union, to help them.

A day later, Joe Ettor arrived. He was an experienced organizer who had led other strikes, and he brought with him new tactics never before used in a labor dispute. When the city outlawed picketing at factory gates, strikers marched around the factory district twenty-four hours a day. When street parades were outlawed, strikers marched on the sidewalks.

The owners expected the strike to collapse in a few days. It didn't. When female marchers chanted, "We want bread and roses, to signify that they wanted more than just a subsistence wage, it struck a sympathetic cord across the nation. To this day, the strike is known as the Bread and Roses Strike.

After eight weeks, families of the strikers began sending their children to other homes around New England, because they feared the police would beat the children. When two hundred women and children approached the train station, local police and soldiers attacked them with clubs. Instantly, the owners lost all public support. Even Congress called for an investigation into wages and living conditions in Lawrence.

Two weeks later, it was over. Mill owners agreed to most of the strikers' original demands, making their victory a watershed in American labor history. Find out more about the strike, the living conditions of the workers, and the unique tactics they used to win the strike. Take The Web Journey.

The Hermitage Museum, in St. Petersburg, Russia, includes seven buildings that house one of the world's largest museums. The first building completed was the Winter Palace, built between 1754 and 1762 for the Russian Royal Family. It remained the home of the Royal Family until the Russian Revolution of 1917, when the complex became a state museum. A fire in 1837 destroyed much of the Winter Palace, although it was quickly rebuilt. Today, the museum houses over 3,000,000 works of art. ## Alabama-Florida Peanut Trade Show set for February 7th

The Biodiesel Classroom on Wheels was developed as a collaborative effort by the Alabama Dept. of Agriculture Commissioner Ron Sparks and Alabama A&M University to be used as a mobile classroom on wheels and will be used to educate the public about small to medium scale biodiesel production using a variety of available feedstock. It will also serve as a platform for Alabama A&M research and development of processing oilseed crops from test plots.

What's the latest in agriculture technology for peanut producers? You'll have to attend this year's Alabama-Florida Peanut Trade Show, Thursday, Feb. 7, at the National Peanut Festival Fairgrounds in Dothan to get a glimpse of just what may be down the road for peanut producers.

What COULD be "down the road" is the Biodiesel Classroom on Wheels, a traveling demonstration build by Biodiesel Logic of Albertville and made possible by a collaborative partnership between Alabama A&M University and the Alabama Department of Agriculture and Industries' Center for Alternative Fuels.

The classroom, which provides an in-depth look at how biodiesel fuel may be produced and inform public officials, business leaders and others across the state as to the ease of the biodiesel process, will be one of numerous demonstrations available for trade show attendees.

"There is a lot going on in the agriculture and the peanut industries and this trade show will give growers, and others involved in the industry, a chance to come together to discuss what could be down the road as far as agriculture," said Randy Griggs, executive director of the Alabama Peanut Producers Association. "We strongly encourage growers in Alabama, Georgia, Florida, and Mississippi to come be a part of this trade show."

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. - central time and exhibitors will open their booths at the same time to welcome in the attendees to the 2008 show. This will mark the third year of the trade show coordinated by the Alabama and Florida Peanut Producers Associations.

Lunch will be provided to those who attend and growers can register for door prizes including $500 cash from Kelley Manufacturing Company, a certificate from Amadas Industries for a $10,000 credit on a self-propelled combine, $5,000 credit on a pull-type combine or $2,000 on other Amadas equipment.

"On behalf of both APPA and FPPA, I'd like to welcome all growers and industry interests to the trade show that will feature numerous exhibitors there to assist growers," Griggs said. "There are still some inside and outside exhibit spaces available. Potential vendors can contact Teresa Wilson at the Alabama Producers Association office (334) 792-6482."

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. - central time and

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

With the girls back at college after the holidays it seems like we have an empty house that is quiet, dark in most rooms and filled with closed doors. While the girls do still argue, at least the noise let me know they were both at home, and with them gone the lights in the hall stay off and their bedroom doors are always closed to keep the cat out. Now I know what my parents meant when they used to fuss at me about not coming home more often.

FOR WHAT IT IS WORTH....

*** The Elba Tigers have cooled off since winning five straight games over the holidays and saw their record slip to 9-8 last week as they lost for the third straight time in the new year. A loss to cross-county rival New Brockton was sandwiched between area losses to Straughn and Pike County, and with the next four games all being area contests, the time is now for the Tigers to regain their winning form of they could very well enter the area tournament as the number four seed. Looking down the schedule I can see one win that appears pretty easy, but the rest will all be tough games and the Tigers will have to play their best for all thirty-two minutes to have any chance of pulling off a win. Elba still has a shot at posting a winning record, but it won't be easy.

*** The Elba Lady Tigers posted wins over New Brockton and Pike County last week to improve their record to 7-7. The Lady Tigers may not be the most talented team in the area, but they play hard for all four quarters and have to be the surprise team in South Alabama for the '07 season. There are no easy games left on the schedule for the Elba girls. However, I doubt they even care and are looking forward to the challenge of taking on the best around. Keep playing hard Lady Tigers and more wins will come.

*** Taking a look around the area finds the Brantley Bulldogs the hottest team around as the Bulldogs have upped their record to 11-10. The Bulldogs snapped 3A Straughn's 10-game winning streak early in the week, then closed the week with a big win over county rival Luverne. Don't look now, but Brantley is no longer the team it was early in the season! New Brockton had a big win over Elba to highlight the Gamecocks' week, while Kinston got a big home win and Zion Chapel remained winless. Over on the girls' side, Brantley reached the 20-win plateau with its weekend win over Luverne and moved to 20-1 on the season, while New Brockton, Kinston and Zion Chapel all had weeks to forget.

*** Now that the bowl games are over the big news in college football is a proposal to establish an eight-team playoff system using the bowls as the hosts for the post-season action. For years many college coaches have been in favor of such a playoff, and with the parity now so evident in all college sports, maybe the time has indeed arrived. If such a playoff had been in effect this season I am sure Southern Cal, Georgia and maybe even West Virginia could have taken home the national title. Since it is the college athletic directors seeking the change it will be interesting to see what happens.

*** In closing.... Elba Tiger quarterback Trey Martin has verbally committed to attend Harding University, a division two school in Arkansas. Martin, who passed for over 2,000 yards as a senior at Elba High, made visits to a number of state colleges before making the commitment and was visited last week in Elba by a Harding assistant. It looks like the Tigers will have their second quarterback in three years sign a college pact. Not bad for a school the size of Elba.

Enterprise's Stinnett is only county player named to '07 Dothan Eagle "Super 12" prep football squad

The Dothan Eagle announced its 2007 "Super 12" high school football selections for Class 1A-Class 6A last weekend with the only Coffee County player named to the list being Enterprise High School's Parker Stinnett.

Stinnett, a kicker/punter/wide receiver, connected on 8 of 12 field-goals during the season, with the longest being from 48 yards, and also made 27 of 31 extra-points and averaged 39 yards per punt. As a receiver, he caught 19 passes for 325 yards and 7 touchdowns.

Also named to the all-classification team were (RB/DB) J.J. Laster, of Graceville; (LB) Spencer Pybus, of Northview; (DE/TE) Courtney Upshaw, of Eufaula; (WR/DB) Svanthe Davenport, of Charles

Henderson; (RB) Michael Berry, of Andalusia; (RB/LB/KR) Jonas Randolph, of Daleville; (DL) Daverton Adams, of Pike County; (RB) Jermaine Williams, of Slocomb; (QB/K) Dewayne Whitten, of Cottonwood; (QB/S) Blake Wallace, of Wicksburg; and (FB/DB) Bradley Battles, of Marianna.

J.J. Laster, of Graceville, was named the "Player of the Year," while named the "Coach of the Year" was Cottonwood's Toby Greene.

Receiving honorable mention were Jake Nobles, Providence Christian; Ty Tyler, Ariton; Joe Tarwater, Houston Academy; Clark Cole, Dixie Academy; Dionis Bryant, Early County; and Zach Schaubmut, Chipley.

Bo Hunter Collins, age 12, of Jack, killed his first buck of the season, a Pye Ball 10-point, that he killed on Dec. 17, 2007. Bo has been a true hunter since he was old enough to carry a gun. This 10-point made the fourth mount for Bo. He has killed a total of 27 deer since the age of seven. Bo is the son of Sean and Kim Collins and the grandson of Bruiser and Alice Pilcher.

Prior to World War II the 16 gauge was the darling of hunters across the south. Many overall clai schoolboys and field hands prowled the hedgerows and briar patches looking for the evening meal with this medium bore shotgun. Bob Whites were plentiful during this time, and more than one hunter armed with a single barrel developed enough speed to shoot, reload and fire again before the covey was totally out of range.

The 16 gauge double was usually the choice of the gentlemen hunters, too. Large landowners hunted quail from mule drawn wagons behind a brace of English pointers. They referred to the 16 gauge as "the gun that carried like a 20-gauge but hit with the wallop of a 12 gauge."

The 16 gauge's demise began after the war was over. Men returned home from the war wanting autoloaders like the ones that had fought with on foreign soil.

The firearm manufacturers were not receiving big military contracts now and were anxious to provide America's firearm purchasers with whatever they would buy. About this time they were many improvements in shot shells also. A few years later the shot collars were designed to improve shotgun patterns. All these innovations and improvements caused the lightweight 20 gauge to replace the 16 gauge.

The firearm manufacturers were also improving the old 12 gauge shotguns by making the receivers out of alloys rather than steel to reduce the weight. It was one of the front-runners in weight reduction and came out with a pump 12 gauge that weighed only 6 1/2 pounds. Upland bird hunters realized that they could purchase autoloaders that weighed no more than their double barrels and would shoot five times rather than two rounds. The demise of the Bobwhite also dealt the 16 gauge a blow. As the quail disappeared, many southern hunters started dove hunting and moved up to the 12 gauge. Others traded their shotgun for rifles and started deer hunting.

16 gauge guns began spending more time in their gun case under the bed and in a remote corner of the bedroom closet than they did hunting game over the fields of America. The 20 and 12 gauges had put the 16 out to pasture.

In the past few years the firearm manufacturers have experienced a growing demand for 16 gauge shotguns. Remington, Ithaca, Interarms and several more manufacturers are again offering 16 gauge guns in lines where they had previously dropped it from production. The demand for used 16 gauges has also increased.

I quail hunted with a friend's old 16 gauge Parker double last season. These old guns just seem to leap to your shoulder and find the bird themselves. I remember reading about a hunter who fed into his computer to find out what was the ideal all around shotgun. The computer said the 16 is best. Seem our granddaddies and our modern computers came to the same conclusion.

NOT SO FAST! Players fight for a loose ball in recent action in youth basketball play at the Elba Recreation Center. This season all leagues are co-ed, and after one week of action the girls are holding their own. (Photo by Mike Capps)

Harper Blount killed her first deer Dec. 15, 2007 while hunting with her dad at a hunting club in West Greene County. The doe weighed 130 pounds. Harper is 8-years-old and the daughter of Tiffany and Stephen Blount of Tuscaloosa. Grandparents in Elba are Gloria and John Harper.

Senior Andrew Fuller wins poetry awards

Christmas

On Christmas morning I arose to see a plethora of gifts under the tree. I raced to open them when a thought hit fast of a wonderful story from the past. Christmas is not just of gifts and fun but of the one and only God's Son. Jesus is His name and He came from Heaven above. He came to show us the true meaning of God's love. He lived thirty-three years without sin and then He died and rose again. Jesus is the reason for Christmas, this is true because He died for me and you.

said plans are to apply for a grant to allow for fencing to be erected around the airport.

Looking even further ahead (two or three years), Grimes said he foresees the city possibly trying to obtain the funds to extend the runway 500-750 feet. "We've probably spent $3 million or more on the airport with what we've done and what we're now in the process of doing," said Grimes. "We're excited about the work and have had a lot of good response and positive remarks."

The mayor also feels the airport improvements help the city in regards to economic development efforts. He said the improved appearance provides a better first impression to those who fly in to Elba. Also, he said it helps existing businesses, and some already have utilized the airport since completion of the runway reconstruction work.

Explosive device found at residence on County Road 515 near New Brockton

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The discovery of an explosive device at a residence on Coffee County Road 515 near New Brockton last Thursday afternoon, Jan. 17, gained the immediate attention of law enforcement officials.

Coffee County Sheriff's Department Investigator Neal Bradley first discovered the device when he went to the residence with the initial purpose of "questions about a burglary."

Bradley said he first went to the residence on Wednesday, Jan. 16, but was unable to locate anyone at home. He returned on Thursday afternoon, and that is when he discovered the explosive device connected to the back door.

Coffee County Chief Deputy R.W. Whitworth said the front door of the residence was screwed together in a manner that would force a person to go to the back door to enter the home.

While at the back door last Thursday, Inv. Bradley said he noticed several suspicious things about the door that led him to discover the device. First, he said he noticed the door was not secure. Next, he noticed tape around the door that he said was not there the day before when he was at the residence. Bradley credited his training in helping him be able to identify the danger in the situation and locate the explosive device before any harm was done.

"It's pretty visible once you get to looking," said Bradley in regards to the device.

After identifying the explosive, Inv. Bradley said the Dothan bomb squad was contacted, and they "took down" the device. According to Bradley, the "booby-trap" explosive was made from a standard light bulb.

Officials said a small hole was drilled in the light bulb to allow for it to be filled with a flammable liquid. Once the liquid was in the bulb, the hole was covered and the light bulb was put back in the light socket.

If the light had been turned on, Inv. Bradley said the electricity would have caused the device to explode.

Officials said Thursday they were not sure if the device was intended for law enforcement officials, or if it was intended for the homeowner. The investigation does, however, continue into this incident.

A section of Coffee County Road 515 was closed for several hours last Thursday afternoon, Jan. 17, by the Coffee County Sheriff's Department after an explosive device was inadvertently discovered by Investigator Neal Bradley. The Dothan bomb squad was called to the scene to "take down" the device.

Coffee County Sheriff's Department officials seize large amount of marijuana

by Linda Hodge, Editor

A routine driver's license checkpoint conducted last Friday evening, Jan. 18, led the Coffee County Sheriff's Department to one of the largest drug busts in the county in recent years.

Coffee County Chief Deputy R.W. Whitworth said the sheriff's department was conducting a driver's license checkpoint on Alabama Highway 125 near the Victoria community last Friday evening when they detected the odor of marijuana coming from a vehicle stopped at the checkpoint. He said deputies searched the vehicle and discovered a handgun and a one-gallon Ziploc bag containing approximately one-pound of marijuana.

Whitworth said the deputies seized from the vehicle a 357 pistol and the bag of marijuana. The three individuals traveling in the vehicle were arrested and charged with possession of marijuana, first degree.

The three individuals arrested on scene were Monroe Williams, age 26, of Brundidge, Ala.; De'Monda Dallas Siler, age 30, of Chicago, Ill.; and Charles E. Brooks Jr., age 36, also of Chicago.

After questioning the driver of the vehicle, Whitworth said the sheriff's office applied for and obtained a search warrant for the residence of suspect Monroe Williams, located on Coffee County Road 109 in the Roton community. Investigators and deputies searched the residence and allegedly found additional items for seizure.

This was the biggest bust found in a long time as far as drugs and money," said Investigator Neal Bradley.

At the residence, Whitworth said an additional five-pounds of marijuana was recovered along with over $5,000 in currency, two handguns and additional drug paraphernalia. As a result, Monroe Williams faced an additional charge of trafficking in marijuana. Bond was set at $510,000.

Whitworth spoke highly of the deputies and investigators involved with this case and said they all did a "very nice job."

The estimated street value of the approximate six-pounds of Investigators and deputies with the Coffee County Sheriff's Department seized more than $5,000 in currency, three handguns and approximately six-pounds of marijuana from a vehicle and residence Friday evening, Jan. 18. Officials said this was one of the biggest drug busts in Coffee County in recent years.

REMEMBERING DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. Despite freezing temperatures, a crowd of more than 40 people gathered Monday morning, Jan. 21, in New Brockton to participate in an annual event of commemoration. Joining many others across the nation, the residents remembered and honored the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on the day earmarked for him. The day's events began with a youth program at the old Warren Smith School in New Brockton. This was followed by the annual "walk of remembrance" through the Town of New Brockton from the old school site to Greater Springfield Missionary Baptist Church. At the church, a special service was conducted honoring the memory of the late Dr. King. Event organizers said Dr. King helped move the nation to a higher plateau when he led the civil rights movement, and his legacy is found not only in civil rights but also in moral and civic responsibility of uniting people of all backgrounds to act upon community concerns.

An investigator with the Coffee County Sheriff's Department discovered last Thursday afternoon, Jan. 17, an explosive device set up as a "booby-trap" connected to the back door of this residence on County Road 515 near New Brockton. Investigator Neal Bradley initially went to the residence regarding questions about a burglary but instead found an explosive device attached to the back door.

Town of New Brockton to receive $25,000 grant for law enforcement

The Town of New Brockton will receive a $25,000 grant to provide resources for law enforcement officials.

Representative Terry Spicer (D-Elba) said the grant is welcome news to the growing town.

"Our law enforcement officers work hard, and with very tight budgets. This grant is great news for New Brockton and our community, and I know that they will be able to put this money to good use," said Spicer.

The town of New Brockton has grown substantially in recent years with the addition of many new neighborhoods. The grant will provide state funds to purchase items to help reduce crime and provide additional safety for officers.

"This grant is one step forward in our efforts to promote public safety," said Spicer. "It's important to do everything possible to help those who work to protect us and make our towns safer."

The Alabama Department of Economic and Community Affairs will administer the grant.

EMERGENCY PERSONNEL RESPONDED TO the scene of an automobile accident last Thursday morning, Jan. 17, at approximately 9:52 a.m. Dispatchers with the Elba Police Department received report of a vehicle vs. tree wreck on Alabama Hwy. 166 next to the residence of 1656 Hwy. 166. The driver reportedly was the only person in the vehicle, and he was transported to Elba General Hospital by a unit from Coffee County EMS for observation. The vehicle was traveling on Hwy. 166 when the driver lost control sending it off the roadway. The vehicle stopped when the left rear side struck a tree (shown above). Also responding to the scene were members of the Elba Police Department and Elba Fire Department. The wreck occurred inside the police jurisdiction of Elba. The accident was investigated by the Alabama State Troopers office.
